2. Hearthfriend Trafalgar. Blenheim, a shade longer cast but he has an excellent flat skull but his muzzle could have a little more strength, lovely eye colour and expression, good neck, top-line is ok but he has an excellent tail set and carriage, needs to fill in front a little but has a nice clean outline in profile.

1. Carsan Red Rebellion Ruby, flat skull, good ears, nice strength and length to muzzle, moderate neck, excellent top-line and good tail set but reluctant to use it on the move, well ribbed, deep chest, good feet, nice profile movement, a little close behind but overall nice outline standing and moving.

Excellent proportions of height to length, flat skull with good ears but his cheeks could be a little cleaner and his eye could be larger, good neck, moderate, top-line ok with good depth, rear could have a little more strength but he moves ok but could just be a little more fluid.

PGD 3(0)

1. Ellemich The Hunted at Kailyflee. Clean outline and construction and balance, if a shade long, in excellent muscular condition, flat skull, could have more fill under the eye just to soften the expression, good neck, top-line and tail, has a nice outline standing and moving and moved well with balanced reach and drive.
2. Whats It All About Finjaro. Lovely proportions but just a shade too masculine but he is very well constructed but carrying too much weight, good eye, expression and top-line and good outline standing and moving with strong rear.
